Conducts CCDRR training to reduce risk of LC

The COAST Education Project has organized training for teachers in disaster preparedness. The first part of this two-part training was held at the UROC office. The first episode was held in 2 days due to COVID-19. On the first day, 41 teachers and 3 POs of Camps 1, 2, 6, 11 and 19 participated. On the second day, 34 Teachers of camp 14, 15 & 16 participated in the training. The day-long training started at 10 am and ended at 5 pm.

Rezaul Karim, Team leader of COAST UROC, inaugurated the 2 days training in UROC. In his inauguration speech, he said that Cox's Bazar is a disaster prone area. Not knowing what to do in the event of a disaster can cause a lot of damage. So you have to use the knowledge of training in your working Learning Centre.

Project Manager Jasim Uddin and Technical Officer Jabeledul Islam were the trainers in the first session of the training. In the second session, participants were divided into 6 groups. They made a plan for the LC. The training ended with a speech by Program manager Jasim Uddin Mollah.

The second episode was held at the camp. 80 Burmese teachers took part in it. Technical officers and program officers provided training to them. In the second part, the Burmese teachers describe their experience in various disasters after the arrival of the camp and how they mitigate these disasters.
