No-10

COAST has started a new project named Aligning Communities of Cox's Bazar for Optimum Resilience and Development (ACCORD). This is a three years project funded by Malteser International-Germany. This project are working with 1000 families from host community of Hnila union-Teknaf and Palong Khali union-Ukhiya Upazila who have been affected by Rohingya influx. We expect, at the end of this project, through various dimensional interventions income of at least 800 families will increase. They will develop small business plans and they will have access to local Bazar, markets and also in financial institutions. Women will play the leadership role in local organizations.
